

K.V. AFS Arjangarh has adopted BALA i.e 'Building as a learning aid' as its mission statement with hanging gardens in all corners, medicinal plants, herbal garden and richly sprinkled variety of flowers, the school premises themselves prove as a teaching aid for the tiny tots.

The pillars in the primary wing and staircases are decorated with painting geometric shapes, vegetables, numbers and alphabets. The walls inside the classrooms depicts a chain of events forming a story that is already part of their syllabus so that learners are able to correlate what they learn to about they see.

With the purpose of conducting/introducing innovative ideas in teaching English the students are assigned to frame MCQs based on the text book and letter, the questionnaires are used by themselves a class quiz in the form of group activity.

Besides a long list of words or phrases from the text book has been prepared by the teacher .after completion of the syllabus the words as either read out to the whole class or given in the form of a printed worksheet instructing the students to recall and note down the related reference.

Under CCA the school maintained a regular practice of conducting quiz on topics like games and sports, science, social science, mathematics etc.
